You are, You are
You are I Am

Before there was space, Before there was time
Before the world began, You are there

You created the earth, You created the sky
You created the heavens, You are there

You created life, You created love
You created all we see and do
You created life, You created love
All that is good comes from You

You are the bright and morning star
You are my salvation, You're my everything
Jesus you are
